

Editor XXX
Associate Editor
Physical Review B
American Physical Society

May 15, 2019

Dear Editor XXX,

Thank you for forwarding us the referee reports. We found both reports are insightful and have helped us greatly in improving the presentation of our manuscript.

...

With these information in order, we again would like to thank you the editor and both referees for your careful reading, enlightening questions and helpful comments. And hereby resubmit our manuscript for your consideration for publication in your respected journal.

Sincerely,

XXX

Response to the first referee

First of all we thank the referee for his/her assessment of our work. We would like to show the originality and importance of our work in response to the referee's comment as:

Comment/Question (1) — referee's question or comment

Response: We believe that our work shows some new results and can be regarded as a very useful reference for further study. We will be very grateful if the first referee would reconsider the revised version. Besides, as suggested by the first referee, we also changed a lot in details to improve the description to make it better for reading and understanding. The changing details will be listed in the end.

Response to the second referee

We thank the referee for his/her detailed and insightful questions about our work, and they have indeed helped us to improve our paper. Below, we address the comments and questions of the respected referee one by one.

Comment/Question (1) — referee's question or comment

Response: We thank the referee for pointing that out and we would like to explain more details about...

Summary of changes to manuscript

In response to the first referee:

1. We have ...

In response to the second referee:

1. ...